Johnston Student Center: A Hidden Gem

by Jasmine Pegues

Surprisingly, not many people know of or have visited this second student center, which is a shame because it has plenty to offer! Located across from the Architecture and Design School's pyramids and right behind Burruss, Johnston is the perfect pit stop to make if you have some extra time to kill in between classes, want to try out some new treats, or need a new study spot.

Johnston offers meeting rooms and classroom spaces, as well as some very comfortable seating areas on the third floor. VIVA Market, situated on the second floor, has an array of items. A classic purchase are the flatbread naans; on any given day you can pick up a cheese, pepperoni, buffalo chicken, or Korean BBQ chicken flatbread. Another is their grilled cheese sandwiches. The market also has a broad selection of breakfast items, from breakfast burritos to bacon egg & cheese muffins to biscuits, so they are perfect if you have some free time on the walk to your morning class to grab a bite. And sure, everyone stops by XPress for their milkshake and slushy machines, but Johnston actually had them first! The selection at Johnston's market is unreal; you can even get bags of tortilla chips and drizzle fresh salsa or nacho sauce in them! So, if you ever get the opportunity, take some time to check out Johnston.

Fun Things to Say to Engineering Majors by Mia Yost-Kelly

Aerospace - "Why not just do mechanical engineering?"

Mechanical - "So basic that if you were an ingredient, you would be flour."

ECE - "Glorified Electrician"

Mining - "Aren't you guys' materials science?"

Biomedical - "Not smart enough for premed."

Chemical - "What do you do again?"

Industrial - "Easier Mechanical"

Civil - "Could you please talk about roundabouts for 2 hours."

*I know what you are thinking, "What about CS majors?" They are not real engineers.

Mariah Carey Has Got to be Stopped by Gabe Rosado

Sadly, the spooky season has come to an end. However, this brings up the greatest room dividing question that has plagued Americans for way too long. After Halloween, do you celebrate Thanksgiving, or do you skip over it and go straight to celebrating Christmas? Too often do radio stations and families alike get into the Christmas spirit on November 1st. What happened to Thanksgiving? It's gone from being about family and displaying culinary feats such as a turduckens and faux-turkeys, to being a holiday about shopping for Christmas, ANOTHER HOLIDAY. If you are a likeminded individual, I implore you, don't let the big businesses over-commercialize and erase Thanksgiving from the calendar.
